Description of Project:

The FarmFlow:Supporting Bisonvalley's Milma Outlet is a digital platform designed to streamline dairy supply chain operations by integrating farmers, outlet customers, and administrators. Farmers can register online, and the admin manages milk collection, orders, payments, feed distribution, and stock. Automatic payments are processed every 10 days based on milk collection records. Outlet customers can place orders online, and the admin approves them based on stock availability. The system also handles complaints, generates reports for authorities every 7 days, and schedules meetings with stakeholders. By automating key processes, the system enhances efficiency, transparency, and communication among all stakeholders.
